Its theme is Excellence in Education which we have striven to maintain and increase throughout the 1972-1973 school year. Its 12 months of development are woven around the following seven goals which I described to the Boston School Committee on September 5, 1972: 1. Creation of a Needs Assessment Program with Reading as the first priority. 2. Establishment of an updated Career Education Program to improve the job capabilities of all graduates. 3. Creation of a Boston Secondary School Commission with the goal of providing for the present and future educational needs of all secondary students. 4. Institution of a search for new funds and other resources. 5. Proposal to place new and stronger emphasis on the Arts. 6. Improvement of Communications at all levels. 7. Realignment of the Organizational Structure of the Boston School System, based on a year-long study by a professional management firm and others. In the summer weeks preceding the school year, I was privileged to visit the Superintendents of Schools in eight major urban cities throughout the nation with the aid of a grant from the Ford Foundation. I concluded that while the educational problems were localized and varied they were basically much the same throughout most of the nation s largest cities. With the opening of Boston s schools in September, 1972, I undertook an extended series of in-class visits to our Boston schools. I had been a teacher and an administrator in the system since 1958 but my desire was to acquire updated and first-hand knowledge of conditions...
